Claudina Trump

Personal Property Appraiser
& Liquidator of Antiques, Collectibles,
Whole House Residential Contents

Appraisals for Estates,
Insurance Coverage and Claims.

I have been a resident of Edgewater and New Smyrna Beach since 1964. In 1974 I enlisted in the United States Navy, retiring with twenty years in 1994. I served my last ten years in the Navy as a Yeoman Flagwriter on demanding assignments to the personal staff of Admirals in Washington DC and a Joint Staff command in Nebraska. It was my personal honor to be selected to serve as one of less than 200 qualified “Writers” in the entire Navy.

Just prior to my retirement, I began pursuing my interest in antiques and appraising as an antique dealer in Fredericksburg, VA. Within two weeks of being back home in Florida, I was again an antique dealer in Titusville, FL. A good appraiser needs solid market and specialty experience. Two years later, I began my appraisal training.

My appraisal background includes membership in the International Society of Appraisers from 1997 through 2009 as an accredited appraiser. I have been an Expert Witness in court, participated in several Appraisal Fairs, and been a guest speaker on PBS “Antiques and Collectibles Hotline”.

My professional training and courses I have completed includes, but is not limited to Fine and Decorative Arts, American Furniture Design Styles, Authentication of Antiques and Collectibles, Identification of American Glass, Appraisal Principles and Business Practices, Appraisal Ethics and Standards, Identification and Authentication, Methods of Research, Legal Issues, Moving and Storage Claims, and Report Writing. I have been an Expert Witness in court, a guest speaker on the PBS “Antiques and Collectibles Hotline”.

I am licensed in Volusia County to appraise and to conduct sales. I am a dealer at Avonlea Mall in Jacksonville, FL. My seller ID on EBay is ‘Sissel’. Currently, much of my time is spent doing research for two books on collectibles -- the identification and history of “American Silver Overlay Decoration on Glass”, and “Design Elements in Glass Identification.”
